PACIFIC SLOPE BREMERTON IN A STEW.

Indignant Citizens Say it is Not so Bad.

Mayor Croxon Indicates That He Does Not Run too Deep.

Deaf-mute Forger Shot—Year's Work of Mint—Two Deaths
From Asphyxiation.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.
SEATTLE (Wash.) Jan. 1.—The chamber of commerce has decided to appoint a committee to investigate the reported corruption at Bremerton. The request for an investigation was made by a representative of the Bremerton board of trade, who repudiates the report, and says that the town is not as immoral as Vallejo, opposite the Mare Island navy yard in California.

A long letter was read from Congressman Jones, in which he recommended that steps be taken by the Seattle chamber of commerce to use its influence to have Bremerton correct any evil that might offend the authorities of the Navy Department. At Bremerton the greatest indignation is expressed over what is called a slur on the town when no corruption exists that is not apparent in any place of the size.

Mayor Croxon of Bremerton said today that many of the citizens desire that the saloons be kept open, and that it would be unwise to order a complete shutdown when the morals of the city do not warrant it. While admitting that there are sixteen saloons in the city, he is emphatic in his statement that no disorder has been reported, and that any complaint has been made.
A meeting of the Council will probably take place Friday, when the matter will be discussed from every point of view.

It is said at Bremerton that the lieutenant who made the investigation as ordered by Admiral Stirling, rendered the scandalous report because of a personal antagonism to certain merchants of the town.

DEAF-MUTE SHOT.

WANTED FOR FORGERY.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
REDDING, Jan. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John King, a deaf mute, was shot by Albert Mohr at Hooker, Tehama county, yesterday afternoon.
King has been sought for by officers of Shasta and Tehama counties for six weeks. Now they have him, and if he does not die, he will be compelled to appear in court.

Yesterday at Hooker, King and Mohr, who is a lad of eighteen, got into an altercation over a girl, and King was shot in the thigh. He was taken to Red Bluff for treatment, and was taken to jail.

Two weeks ago King forged several checks on merchants in Redding and Red Bluff, using the names of the superior in each case. It is said that he is wanted. Mohr is the son of a prominent Hooker citizen.

FUNDS FOR UNIVERSITY.

FRIENDS SCHEMING FOR IT.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.
OAKLAND, Jan. 1.—The members of the Alameda county Legislative delegation met yesterday afternoon at Berkeley, and various plans for providing revenue for the institution were considered. It is the desire of President Wheeler and the friends of the university to provide a permanent income sufficient to meet the requirements of the State school, but failing in that, an appropriation of $250,000, which was made two years ago, will be very acceptable.

No definite action was made, but a willingness was expressed on the part of the delegation to exert themselves in the interest of the university.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

San Francisco Mint Coinage.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—The United States mint in this city coined $25,000 the past twelve months. Of this sum $35,072,500 was in double eagles, $1,636,000 was in eagles, and $1, and was made into half eagles. The remainder of the sum was in silver.

Safe Blowers Near Wheatland.

MARYSVILLE, Dec. 31.—Safe-blowers got in their work last night at the store of Horace Brown, near Wheatland, twelve miles below here. Black powder was used, and two safes in the store were blown to pieces. The burglars succeeded in getting $15 in nickels and $5 in silver. Eight bottles of whisky and a quantity of eatables were also taken. Entrance was gained by means of a skeleton key.

Working Guadalupe Mine.

SAN JOSE, Jan. 1.—After having been abandoned for twenty years, the official shaft of the Guadalupe quick-silver mine will be made to produce again the ore which at one time caused the mine to be classed among the richest in the world. Since August 12, 1902, pumps have been working to free

RUSH FOR CLAIMS BY OIL LOCATORS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)

SALT LAKE (Utah) Jan. 1.—A special to the Tribune from Evanston, Wyo., says that the rush for claims in the Uintah oil fields still continues, and from the present outlook, more than a week will elapse before the locating has been completed. So far as known, there has been no bloodshed, although shots were exchanged in many cases.

Up to midnight, last night, a person could well imagine himself in the heart of a hostile country. First, marking the corners of claims, were lighted by the thousands, and this, together with hundreds of locators camped near by, reminded one of a bivouac in war.

Col. Ketchum, at the head of twelve destitute cowboys, well-armed and mounted, carried the Aspen country down. At midnight, they rode forward down the section lines setting stakes as the mine from the immense volume of water which had before prevented development. Now the workmen have been permitted to enter the 200-foot level, and the ore taken out is richer than was anticipated.

Lives Pass Out With Old Year.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—Was the gas route two lives went out with the old year. Aged J. C. Lutz, who lived at No. 134 Gough street with his married daughter, was found dead in bed at the breakfast hour this morning with the deadly gas pouring from an open gas pipe. The gas, which Meyer, who lives at No. 23 Taylor street, was also found asphyxiated in his room. Both cases are deemed by relatives, friends and morgue officials to be accidental.
Lutz was 53 years of age, and Meyer was 27.

Architect Gets Into Trouble.

SAN JOSE, Jan. 1.—W. B. Peel, a San Francisco architect and builder, and two of his carpenters were arrested here today on a charge of unlawfully entering the premises of J. E. Fisher, a real estate broker. Peel has the contract for remodeling a Santa Clara street building, which the Graumanns have leased for a theater, which they expect to open February 1. Fisher was a tenant of part of the building and was notified to vacate by January 1. He did not do so, but publicly advertised that he would move tomorrow.

Daring Hotel Robbery.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—Charles Bushnell, night clerk of the Hotel Graysome, told the police a story of daring robbery today. Sunday night a young man registered as R. Gorman, but he did not reappear until 4 o'clock this morning, and asked for change for $10. Bushnell opened the cash drawer, and when he looked up again he found that he carried a revolver held by a second man, whose face was concealed by a handkerchief. The two men took $25 from the cash drawer, and $15 from Bushnell and escaped.

TRIED TO CUT OFF
HAND OF YOUNG WOMAN.

GEMS THAT ADORNED FINGERS
DAZZLED DESPERADO.

With keen-bladed knife Henry God-man slashes the hand of Miss Matthews in an effort to secure possession of valuable rings.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Henry God-man, 19 years of age, was arrested just before midnight, charged with having attempted to cut off a young woman's hand to obtain the diamond rings that adorned her fingers. The attack was made in the full view of scores of merry-makers, including the woman's escort.

Miss May Matthews and Miss May Lewis started out with their escorts for an automobile ride, and later went to supper. It was shortly after 11 o'clock when the start was made for home.
Soon something went wrong with the machine, and the two men got down to play with her fingers. The attack was made in the full view of scores of merry-makers, including the woman's
escort.

Suddenly from the crowd sprang a young man who held in one hand a knife with a long and exceedingly keen blade. From Miss Lewis he grabbed the bag she was carrying, and then, selling Miss Matthews by the fingers, he sprang to the rescue, and dashed cutting a deep gash in the young woman shrieked with fright and pain, and her escorts, with a shout to make her other effort to sever her hand, brand-ished his knife in the faces of those who sprang to the rescue, and dashed along Houston street. After a long chase he was captured, but did not surrender until beaten into submission by a policeman.

The general impression was that an attempt had been made to murder the girl and that it was not until the police man into whose hands Goodman fell, he would have fared badly. The officer had to fight off the mob, and at the same time prevent his prisoner from stabbing him with the knife which had been used on Miss Matthews's hand.
Made from the crowd, Goodman was taken to the station house, where he said he intended to cut off the girl's hand for the rings she wore.

Y.M.C.A. IN LUCK.

South Bend Association to Be Presented With a Handsome Home by Studebaker Brothers' Company.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Jan. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The South Bend Young Men's Christian Association is about to have a new $25,000 home, a gift from Studebaker Bros. in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the company. On Christmas James Oliver, the millionaire plow manufacturer, said he proposed to erect a home for the Y.M.C.A. as a memorial for his wife. In making their offer today, the directors of the Studebaker company said:

"On December 31, the day marking the closing of the fiftieth year since the founding of the business of Studebaker Bros., this board, desirous of carrying out the expressed wish of each of the five Studebaker brothers that some day this company should, in the city, erect a building which should be a memorial and thank-offering, and believing that a gift to the Young Men's Christian Association will best serve this purpose, we do hereby decide that this company will erect and present to the association a building for its use as a permanent home."

They came to the corners. As the first stakes were being driven, they were greeted by a volley of gunshots from opposing locators, but the bullets always missed their marks. Swinging to their saddles the party darted forward, nor did they cease until they had located every section open for locating. Then, retracing their way, they found that the opposing parties had in many cases pulled their stakes and burned them in the fire. These were replaced, and the triumphant party returned to file their claims on record.

In the Spring Valley country, there were fist fights on every side, but the men refrained from the use of firearms, as far as known, though up to this time, a feeling of deadly hatred has existed between the locators for some time.

VENEZUELA. COMPLIMENTS OF SEASON.

Extended to Castro by the American Minister.

German Colonists Call Upon Bowen With Gifts.

Persistent Rumors of Refusal to Arbitrate—Notes Received by the Powers.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.
CARACAS, Jan. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As United States Minister Bowen arrived at the Miraflores Palace to attend President Castro's New Year's Day reception, the Venezuelan band struck up "The Star Spangled Banner." The decorations of bunting and flowers, with scattered soldiers carrying gleaming bayonets fixed, made a brilliant scene in the bright sunshine, as the American minister entered.

Mr. Bowen extended to the President the compliments of the season in a speech in the Spanish language, to which President Castro replied. The minister held a reception of his own at the American Legation. Conspicuous there were members of the German colony, bearing gifts and flowers, and thanking him for the protection he had afforded them.

British and Italian warships on blockade duty here are taking harbor soundings and measuring distances. Nothing definite is given out here about the progress of negotiations for arbitration. The public expects that there will be some delay in reaching an agreement.

NOT DEFEATED BY REBELS.

CARACAS, Jan. 1.—The report current in Willemstad, Curacao, that the government sustained a defeat in the recent fight with the revolutionists in Barquisimeto, is untrue. The government was victorious at Barquisimeto, and that town, as well as San Carlos and Tingiquila, was recaptured. The rebels, as was duly reported in these dispatches.

There have been persistent rumors in official circles and generally throughout this city, since yesterday, that President Castro had refused to agree to the proposals of the allies to refer the Venezuelan issues to The Hague.
The correspondent of the Associated Press at the President of Venezuela for an hour this morning. It is not true that the President has declined the proposals of the powers; the Chief Executive declares he wants only fair treatment. It is clear from what President Castro said at the interview that he believes it will be very easy to reach a full settlement of the entire controversy.

President Castro said to the correspondent: "If a settlement is not reached, it is because a settlement forms no part of the plan of the allies; in this case the prolongation of the present situation would be disastrous for all concerned. The solution of the present difficulty depends most upon the allied powers than on Venezuela."

The President was then questioned as to whether or not he would resign the Presidency, and if it was his purpose to make a change in the present cabinet. He said he was not at liberty to talk whatever nonsense that unwarranted to I will make a change in the cabinet when the present session is ended."

HE LACKED INSPIRATION.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)

BERLIN, Jan. 1.—The Tagliche Bundschau declared in the recent article by Gen. von Boguslawski was inspired. The paper says that the general, being retired, does not have to get the permission of the government to express his views publicly. He is one of the editors of the Bundschau.
Gen. von Boguslawski is considered one of the foremost military writers in Germany. He recently contributed an article to the Tagliche Bundschau, in which he advocated resistance to the Monroe doctrine. His remarks were regarded in Washington as a semi-official utterance of the German government upon that principle.

New York City Hall Strike—Mor-

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.)
ALBANY (N. Y.) Jan. 1.—Rev. E. M.
Fairchild of Albany, who has been called into consultation by the workmen interested in the formation of the National League of Independent Workmen of America, said in an interview:

"The league will be organized in the near future. It is proposed to put a national organizer in the field, and organize local branches all over the country, and demand that employers run their shops as 'open shops,' in which union and league men can have an equal and fair chance for employment."

"The league will be strictly a laboring man's affair, but it will be incorporated, so as to command the confidence of employers and the general public, and be in a position to defend the rights of its members through the courts. Only American citizens will be eligible to membership."

"The specific objects for which the independent workmen propose to organize are as follows:
(1) To protect independent workmen in their independence.
(2) To sustain high wages by energetic cooperation with our employers.
(3) To establish reasonable hours of labor, according to the exigencies of the trades.
(4) To promote intelligent understanding of our work.
(5) To furnish favorable conditions for training apprentices, in order that our boys may become successful workmen.
(6) To maintain sanitary conditions of employment by means of State laws and inspectors.
(7) To compel officers of the gov-

(9) To protect members against unjust treatment from employers, by due process of law.
(10) To provide a labor bureau for its members."

MACKAY PLANS.

THEY ARE GUARDED WELL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Whatever is the nature of the plans being worked out by Clarence H. Mackay for the benefit of the older employers of the Postal Telegraph Company, they are being guarded well. From what has been learned, however, they involve something more important than a simple gift of money to men who have been in the employ of the company for more than ten years, though that gift may be included. One of the prominent officials, who is close to the young head of the corporation, is quoted as saying:
"The plan is being worked out, but it is too big to give out as yet. It is information. When the plan comes to maturity all interested will be informed, but it will not be today, nor within a few days as more time is required."

WASHINGTON

LAST ACTS OF CONGRESS.

They Will Be Comparatively Without Importance.

Omnibus Statehood Bill Likely to Take Most Time.

Long Debate Likely to Kill the Legislation Against Trusts—Three Intoxicants.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The legislative program for 1936 will be comparatively unimportant. Congressmen are expected to pass a number of bills which will remain to receive attention. These will be passed. Beyond this there is no certainty. Determined efforts will be made to secure ratification of the Cuban reciprocity treaty, but with little probability of success.

Attempts will be made to pass the Army General Staff Bill and the Philippine Currency Bill, but both will lead to long debate and probably fail of passage. The omnibus Statehood Bill will consume more time than any other measure. The House will seek to prevent a vote. The Ship Subsidy Bill is dead. All efforts to secure ratification of the Cuban reciprocity treaty have been abandoned. The Newfoundland reciprocity treaty is dead.

Legislation to curb the trusts will be attempted, but the long discussion that will come up in the Senate makes success uncertain. The eight-hour bill will be brought up in the Senate and killed. Some additional legislation is necessary to give the President further authority relative to constructing an isthmian canal. The effort to amend the tariff to continue the efforts to secure a right of way for the Panama Canal or take up the Nicaraguan route. Which of these alternatives is chosen will be determined by subsequent events.

The bill creating the Department of Commerce and Labor, which passed the House, will be pushed through the Senate if the different factions can agree on the bureau to be placed under the newly-named cabinet officer. Bills for the relief of Alaska and reorganizing the consular service will probably fail. The new militia bill will be passed by the Senate. It has already passed the House.

THREE INTERVIEWS.

O. P. Austin said: "There seems every reason to believe the commerce of the United States, foreign and internal, in 1936, will be quite up to the average record. Of course, we cannot predict what the crops of 1935 will be, but those of 1934 have been especially good, and activity in the manufacturing and producing interests is unusually great. With good crops, busy factories and general activity in production and business of all sorts, a good commercial record for 1936 is assured."

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley said: "Experiments in food preservatives and adulterants for the purpose of determining their effect upon the human system, now under way and to be continued during the coming year, are the most comprehensive and important ever undertaken by any government. The results of these experiments will settle some of the many disputed points that have puzzled scientists, statesmen and even diplomats for the past twenty-five years. The effect of preservatives on exported meats and other products has been in controversy for years. It is intended to repeat these experiments under all possible conditions and compare results with basic facts that have been determined which will form the groundwork of certainty for all future discussion and action."

Capt. W. B. Cowles said: "The efficiency of the navy will be increased chiefly during 1936 by a continuance of maneuvers now in progress under Admiral Dewey at Culebra, and by a close study of the lessons that are now being learned there."

"These maneuvers will be continued annually and become a part of the regular programme. The North Atlantic and South Atlantic squadrons, and the Caribbean division will continue, as they are doing now. The Asiatic squadron, which almost equals the North Atlantic squadron in the number of ships, will have its own maneuvers. These are now in progress in the Pacific Bay, but they do not include a search problem."

"The Pacific squadron will hold its maneuvers in February or March off the California coast. The principal theme of these maneuvers is the development of organization."

ANSWERS OF POWERS.

HAVE NOT ALL ARRIVED.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M. WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—The rejoinder to the European Foreign Office President's reply to his arbitration proposal have not reached Washington. This, however, occasions no surprise, as the holidays are much more closely observed in European capitals than in Washington.

Following the rule which it has adopted in the treatment of correspondence month the glut in the cattle market at Chicago caused prices to recede to the lowest recently reached, and cattle here sold at $1.75 to $1.85 in December, that would have been $1.85 to $1.95 at the highest time of the year.

"In view of the fact that reports indicate a large supply of cattle on hand in Chicago and other markets, and that the whole price of cattle has been reduced greatly, it seems that the large packers of Chicago have reduced the price. It seems that a corresponding reduction should be shown in retail prices. If the people will weaken to the situation, and assert their rights, relief will promptly follow."

The small supply of cattle at Chicago last summer sent prices up until they reached the highest figure of the year—prices higher than had before been reached in twenty years. Last passing between Venezuela and the allies. The State Department still declines to make public any information respecting the details of President Castro's reply. It merely contends the Associated Press report from Rome to the effect that Castro did attach a condition to the acceptance of the arbitration proposal and that the condition was not endorsed by the Washington government. "However," it is pointed out, "that it has not been regarded as necessary at the State Department, to either approve or disapprove any of the details of the proposal now in exchange between the principals."

As to the condition attached to the acceptance, it can be stated that it is not of great consequence, nor is it likely to involve the loss of the arbitration project, for it is understood to relate to arbitration than to any substantial principle involved.

EASILY RECONCILABLE.

CARACAS, Jan. 1.—The arbitration propositions of the foreign powers and the counter propositions of Venezuela, exchanged through Minister Bowen yesterday, are said by a high Venezuelan authority to be easily reconcilable.

CASTRO'S REPLY IN ROME.

CONDITION NOT ACCEPTABLE.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

ROME, Jan. 1.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Foreign Minister Prinetti this afternoon received through Ambassador Meyer, Secretary Hay's note communicating President Castro's acceptance of the arbitration of the Hague in principle, but with an additional condition which the government at Washington does not support.

At the New Year's diplomatic reception today, Foreign Minister Prinetti and Ambassador Meyer exchanged congratulations over the anticipated settlement by arbitration of the Venezuelan troubles. Sig. Prinetti expressed his appreciation of the attitude of the United States and his satisfaction at the State Department's action throughout the affair.

While reserve is maintained at the Foreign Office with regard to the Venezuelan matter, it has been learned that the Foreign Office considers the additional proposition made by President Castro as not likely of acceptance. Communications on this subject are now being exchanged with Germany and Great Britain.

HAY'S NOTE IN LONDON.

ANNOUNCES THE ACCEPTANCE.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

LONDON, Jan. 1.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Mr. White, the United States Chargé d'Affaires, delivered to the Foreign Office today the note of Secretary Hay announcing President Castro's acceptance of the proposal to have the Venezuelan claims arbitrated by the international court at The Hague.

PRESIDENT GRANT'S TOUR.

RELICS PLACED ON EXHIBITION.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—A valuable collection of relics of the tour of President and Mrs. Grant around the world will today be placed for the first time on public exhibition in the National Museum here. Their transfer to the government was provided for in the will of Mrs. Grant, to whom they were originally presented.

The relics consist of an ancient Japanese cabinet of exquisite lacquer work, with eight drawers, each containing a pair of large modern bronze vases, embossed and decorated, presented by the Emperor of Japan; a lady's gold dressing-gown, in the shape of an apron, with several small cups, the gift of the King and Queen of Siam; a lady's silver perfume toilet set of monumental and classical design, with fine filigree, and a chest containing old manuscripts, including poems and other writings of great antiquity. The collection was placed here by the will of Mrs. Grant, which have been in the government custody for several years.

Assaults Aged Dr. Holcomb and Wife Over Trivial Matter—One Victim in Critical Condition, Other Seriously Injured—Held Without Bail.

F. S. Hobbs, a barber, who has been rooming in the lodging-house kept by Mrs. A. L. Holcomb, No. 731 South Hill street, in the City Jail, charged with assault on Mrs. Holcomb, an aged woman, and her husband, Dr. Holcomb, so brutal that it could hardly be exceeded for ferocity.

As a result of the horrible beating and kicking he received, Dr. Holcomb is in a precarious condition, and his wife is suffering from the blows that Hobbs showered on her, according to her and her husband's story.

It all happened over a discussion about an oil heater. Mrs. Holcomb removed it from Hobbs's room yesterday morning, and when he went back in the afternoon he asked her why she had taken it away. It was not allowed, according to the lease, she said. Then the brute in him asserted himself, it is said. He is alleged to have abused her with vile epithets, but she was immovable. He struck her, a feeble woman over 60 years of age.

He struck her, a feeble woman over 60 years of age.

Her feeble cries reached Dr. Holcomb in another part of the house and he hurried as fast as his age would permit to his wife's side.

He avers he saw Hobbs strike her cruelly hard, and he sprang on the heartless wretch with strength and agility born of a terrible fury.

It was not enough, though. Hobbs struck the aged man also with all his strength, full in the face. This put the doctor at his mercy. After more blows, not delivered at random as a maniac might, but accurately directed, the old man sank to his knees and Hobbs kicked him on the stomach. Holcomb sank to the floor writhing in agony.

Then Hobbs kicked the prostrate man again and again; kicked him in the back, the head, anywhere.

A report was sent to the Police Station immediately by persons who arrived on the scene, and Hobbs fled and hid when the officers arrived. He was given a very uncomfortable time on his way to jail. No bail was accepted, as Dr. Holcomb's condition is critical.

WRECK AND DEATH AND INJURY

IN KERN COUNTY.

Two Locomotives Demolished in Head-on Collision of Freight Trains at Mojave—Boy Fireman's Life Crushed Out and Strikeman Seriously Injured.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 1.—A destructive head-on collision, the shocking death of a fireman, and the fatal injury of a brakeman, comprised the awful record of the past twenty-four hours in the Southern Pacific Railroad in this vicinity.

In the yards at Mojave early this morning, two freight trains came together at high speed, demolishing both locomotives, and giving half a dozen trainmen very narrow escapes from death. Just the instant before the trains crashed together the engine crews saw their danger, and saved their lives by frantic leaps. The accident occurred during a fog so dense that nothing could be seen beyond a few yards. A switch engine, which was backing up, mistook the train for a passenger train, and the mistake could not be seen by either crew until too late to avert the collision. The swiftly-moving train was directed onto the side track, and the engines came together with a deafening crash.

YOUNG FIREMAN KILLED.

CLAUDE J. TURNER, a fireman on the Southern Pacific, was killed instantly at Kern City, was run over and fatally injured at 5:30 o'clock this morning.

The switch engine had stopped at the grade, and Turner, who was backing up, mistook the train for a passenger train, and the mistake could not be seen by either crew until too late to avert the collision. The swiftly-moving train was directed onto the side track, and the engines came together with a deafening crash.

TURNER, BACKED UP ON THE OPPOSITE side of the track, with the right leg crushed below the knee, and a chest wound, was killed instantly. He was 20 years of age, and was a native of California. He was a member of the local fire department, and was a very popular fellow.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

G.A.R.-W.C. Installation.

Stanton Post, G.A.R., and Stanton W.C., will hold a joint installation of officers-elect this evening in Harmon hall, No. 125 West Fifth street, at 8 p.m. The meeting will be open to visitors.

Pedagogues' Reception.

A reception for visiting school teachers will be held at the Chamber of Commerce this afternoon between 4 and 6 o'clock. Refreshments will be served, and a general invitation is extended to the public.

Bartender Paralyzed.

John McCollough, an old bartender, was found on Spring street early yesterday morning helpless from a stroke of paralysis. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital. His condition has shown no signs of improvement.

Veteran Injured.

L. J. King, an inmate of the Soldiers' Home, was knocked down by an automobile here on West Fourth street yesterday evening while he was waiting for a car. His left hip was fractured, and he was severely bruised.

Misses Two Fingers.

A. E. Anderson, a Swede, about 25, was taken from Boyle Heights to the Receiving Hospital last night with a crushed hand. Two fingers were amputated and it may be that the hand will have to come off. Anderson was suffering such pain that he could give no account of the accident.

Charged With Burglary.

Maia Ramirez, a Mexican woman, while making a New Year's call on Mrs. N. Valencia, No. 1814 North Alameda street, unlocked a trunk during the hostess's temporary absence from the room. There was $10 packed among the clothes and things, and Mrs. Ramirez is accused of taking the money. She was arrested on a burglary charge.

Chinese Christmas Exercises.

One of the novelties of the Christmas season will occur at the Y.M.C.A. auditorium this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. It will be the Christmas entertainment of the Presbyterian Chinese Mission. There will be a presentation of gifts from a tree. The whole entertainment will be unique and interesting, and is free to the public.

Congratulations Given.

Nearly a hundred residents of the Second Ward gathered at the home of Councilman-elect C. F. Skilling New Year's Eve to extend congratulations on his coming advent as a member of the City Council. Percy Y. Hammond, elected to the Board of Education, was present and was included in the felicitations. E. H. Hutchinson and others made speeches. The new year was appropriately ushered in before the gathering dispersed.

J. M. Dawson Expires.

J. M. Dawson, a well-known stock broker, died at his home No. 223 North Hill street, late yesterday afternoon, after several months' illness from an internal abscess. The funeral will be held at Azusa, the home of a brother, tomorrow afternoon. A widow, Mrs. Sarah Dawson, two daughters, Misses Florence and Queenie, and a young son, Kenneth, survive here. The other daughters are away from the city. Mr. Dawson was not quite 52 years of age.

He Made It Sure.

George Deakin, the inmate of the County Poor Farm who drowned himself in the river near that institution Wednesday, took careful measures to insure death. At the coroner's inquest yesterday it came out that Deakin tied a five-gallon oil can to his neck with two handkerchiefs. Then he laid down in the shallow water of the river, the can filled up and the weight held the old man's face pressed into the mud. Deakin was 62 years of age, a native of England, and had been at the farm one and a half years.

January in Los Angeles.

Data compiled by the local forecast office of the Weather Bureau show that for twenty-five years the normal temperature in January has been 53 deg.; the warmest month was in 1899, average 58 deg.; coldest, 1880, average 48 deg.; highest temperature, 27 deg. January 9, 1896; lowest, 30 deg. January 28, 1881; January 29, 1882. The average precipitation for the month is 2.56 inches; greatest monthly precipitation, 1.23 inches, in 1896; least, .20 of an inch, in 1877; greater precipitation in any twenty-four consecutive hours, 4.17 inches, January 25-26, 1896. The average number of clear days in it: partly cloudy, 5; cloudy, 6. Prevailing winds have been from the northeast; highest velocity, 48 miles, from the northeast, January 4, 1885.

REVIEWS.

Mr. Booker T. Washington, who is attending the Educational Convention in Los Angeles, will give an informal talk before the Friday Morning Club this morning, at 10:30 o'clock a.m., upon his work at Tuskegee. Each member may bring but one guest.

The night school of the Young Men's Christian Association will open for the winter term Monday, January 5.

All common branches, and many advanced subjects taught. Most classes open to beginners. Call or write for particulars, 209 S. Broadway.

The firm of Richards & Robinson, real estate, is this day (January 1, 1903) dissolved. E. O. Robinson will continue in the real estate business at 301 Grant building, Fourth and Broadway. Telephone, Hope 441.

French dinner, 25 cents, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., Woodward's, 114 West Second street.

Fine Cabinet photos reduced to $1.75 per dozen. Sunbeam, 226 S. Main.

Willi Boris, who lives at No. 425 Kearney street, slipped from a wagon at First and Alameda streets yesterday, and left elbow was fractured.

There are undelivered telegrams at the Western Union telegraph office for Mrs. D. Forbes Randall, A. H. Hoffman, C. F. L. Winter, Frank Forde, F. D. Carson, T. W. Griffin, Miss Tom Wundt, Peter A. Glavin, George Elbert, A. P. Westcott, William Weston, Jacob Tarnoch, William Styer and E. H. Anthony.

DASHING PHIL'S PEN.

Miss Kate Griswold Presents it to the President and He Promises to Use it in Executive Work.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Miss Kate Griswold, an aged woman of Islip, L. I., says a dispatch from that place to the Press, recently found among her effects while rummaging through her bureau, a gold pen which had been the property of Gen. Phil Sheridan. The pen had been given to Miss Griswold years ago by her employer. She wrote a letter to the President at Washington, and sent the pen for a Christmas gift.

The woman is in receipt of a letter from the President acknowledging the gift of the pen, in which he says he will use it in his executive work in the future. The President also sent her a photograph of himself, which she prizes very highly.

ORANG-OUTANG SHOULD RANK NEXT TO MAN.

WILDER WOULD MOVE GORILLA DOWN A PEG.

Proposition Causes Much Discussion Among Scientists—Few Points on Indian Arrow Poison—Services to His Race of Walter Reed Suitably Recognized.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—At today's session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, one of the interesting papers was by Prof. Burt Wilder of Cornell University before the section of zoology, on "Some Questions as to the Arrangement of the Primates."

According to the views advanced by Prof. Wilder, there should be a rearrangement in the present classification of apes and man. The brain, he considers as affording the best criterion on which to determine their affinities and diversities. Incidentally he showed that the brain of the orang-outang appeared more nearly like that of man, and that, judged by this characteristic, the orang-outang should rank next after man, instead of the gorilla. This paper provoked much discussion.

Another interesting paper read today was by Prof. W. G. McGee on "Indian Arrow Poison." Prof. McGee explained that the poison often was applied to the bow instead of the arrow, or that the arrows were put on the weapons which it was believed would cause the death of a victim. In other instances, he said, the Indians daubed their arrow points with putrefying matter, which produced septicemia in the person struck, and thereby resulted in death.

Resolutions of regret on the death of Maj. Walter Reed, surgeon, United States army, were adopted and a committee of nine authorized to secure a suitable permanent memorial to Maj. Reed in recognition of his benefactions to the race in solving the problem of the spread of yellow fever.

About thirty prominent scientists of the country were elected fellows of the association. A constitutional amendment was adopted allowing the annual meetings of the association to be extended beyond a week.

A large number of papers on technical subjects were read at the various meetings of the section during the day.

WOUNDED BY FOOTPADS.

INDEPENDENCE (Kan.) Jan. 1.—Henry Hager was fatally wounded by footpads here this morning. He lived north of here, and had come in on the night passenger train to be married today. A deep gash was cut across his back on his head. His body was placed on the Santa Fe track, and was mutilated by a train. Hager has been a traveling man for the McCormick Harvesting Company.

TORTURING DISFIGURING

Skin, Scalp and Blood Humours

Speedily Cured by Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills

When the Best Physicians and All Else Fail.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and scaling of the scalp, as in scalded head; the facial disfigurements, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worried parents, as in milk crust, tetter and salt rheum,—all demand a remedy of such superlative virtues as successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy have made them the standard skin cures, blood purifiers and humoral remedies of the civilized world.

Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and, lastly, take the Cuticura Resolvent Pills, to cool and cleanse the blood. This complete treatment, costing but one dollar, affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning and scaly humours of the skin, scalp and blood, and points to a speedy, permanent and economical cure when all other remedies and the best physicians fail.

XXIInd YEAR.

The Tournament of Roses

he consented to let the man come up, and she went away off down the avenue with the first prize, the horse pacing beautifully.

NO HARD FEELING.

Another young lady was not at all enthusiastic over her honors. She was in the most unique feature of the parade. It was a float representing winter in the East, with two little boys bundled up in furs and mufflers, with a snow man and sleds and very good fake snow, and winter in California, with two little girls sitting in airy summer frocks among the roses. She was one of the little girls. She was about 2 years old.

When the attendant came out with her blue flag, she looked at him with severe disapproval and withdrew a bag of popcorn crisps cautiously around behind her. He handed her the blue flag with his most deferential bow. She took it in one of her fat chubby hands with manifest misgivings, as much as to say, "Well, I don't know about this." She finally decided to take it on the other little girl, and then gave her a popcorn crisp, to show there was no hard feeling.

DARK ANXIETY.

There might have been a tragedy if one of the blue flags hadn't gone just where it did. Perched up behind one of the sweetest rigs in the parade, was an ebony-black coon in livery. Evidently the spanking pair of black horses in front were the pride and joy of his life. He could not restrain his anxiety going by the stand. He kept craning his neck to see if his master was making a good job driving them, and then he

LIKE A FAIRY DREAM.

HAD it not been for the earthliness of a grief over a stepped-on thine, you might have lost yourself and dreamed that Pasadena's Tournament of Roses was the riot of a fairy princess drunk on the odor of violets.

The parade, which wound around the old live-oak tree in the middle of Orange Grove avenue yesterday, waiting the scent of flowers, was a carnival of ineffable and subtle charm. It had as a setting a perfect day.

The greatest throng in the history of the beautiful "Crown of the Valley" feasted on the gorgeous spectacle. The prettiest place to see the display was on Orange Grove avenue, where the reviewing stands were placed. It is one of the aristocratic sections of Southern California, and the very atmosphere seemed to give out suggestions of kid gloves and point lace. Why, even the policemen—there was a sportive youth walking along with kid gloves and turned-up trousers and a wily cane, and blessed if, when he turned around, he wasn't a special policeman with a big, shining star.

It cannot be stated with positive authority that the garbage man comes around with a spiked-tail coat on Orange Grove avenue; the garbage man had been around before the parade came.

There was a parade of swiftness in front of the reviewing stands before the actual official parade came by.

Everybody who could scrape up a carriage to ride in was there. Horses, gleaming with silver chains and driven by stiff-livered drivers in white hats, went clamping by with ladies who seemed to be tremendously busy talking, without seeming to know very definitely what each other was talking about, and not noticing at all that the crowd was watching with awe.

Also there were girls, very scornful girls, with their noses in the air and curled behind big bunches of violousing colors announced the coming of the parade.

SILENT NAVAJOES.

When the color tangle melted into separate figures, a herald in tights and shoulder cape, a trumpet and proud-stepping horse, rode on before the rest and opened the tourney with a bugle blast.

Perhaps one man might tell you that the parade was mostly a band of Indians on their scraggy little ponies, all sinew and bone, Indian women, with their blankets wound around their hips and their saddles in a way that no white woman could imitate. The man who remembers those would speak with greedy eyes, as he recounted the price-less blankets and the "broader reds" and the beaded surcingle and the far shoulder hangings.

They were a gentle-eyed people, these Indians. They rode by in long, single file, silent and dignified. One of their exhibits was a float hung with Indian woven blankets, and adorned with Indian baskets. In this bower Indian women were weaving and spinning, after the fashion of their race. Several of them were pretty and modest and gentle.

DAINTY BEAUTY.

Another man might admit that there were Indians or something of the kind in the parade, but say that the real things in the parade were the girls. Where so many pretty girls came from is a mystery. But then, almost any girl can look pretty in powdered hair and dainty white gowns that puff.

There were whole tallies of them. One of the prettiest of these was a four-horse tallyho from the Hotel Green. It was all red and green with flowers. Pretty young girls sat atop with big red picture hats and dainty summer gowns. As they went by the reviewing stand each girl released a red toy balloon from under her parasol. It was as pretty an effect as you could imagine, and all during the parade you could see the red globes soaring up through the sunlight until they became little specks in the summer sun, and at last faced from sight.

Throop and Pasadena High School both had tallies filled with pretty girls, and decorated into pictures of indescribable loveliness.

The High School tallyho was filled with dainty maidens in powdered hair and in gowns of pink and white. Ahead of the coach were outriders in the costume of courtiers. Throop was in orange and white, and the outriders were dashing figures in slashed doublets.

SWEET LITTLE MAID.

But the sweetest girl of all was a very little girl. She was riding horseback on a splendid, lithe young horse. Her hair was streaming down past the grand stand in her little white frock. She was charmingly unconscious of the attention she held. She was swaying from side to side in her saddle to make her horse pace. He didn't want to pace, and she was growing warm over it. One of the judges nodded to an attendant, who started out from the reviewing stand with a coveted blue banner.

The little girl didn't see him at all. She went away on and would have passed him, but he called to her. She looked up suddenly, startled. The horse stepped short in his tracks and drew back on his haunches in sheer amazement. They were like a pair of frightened young animals, ready for instant flight—both of them. But the man with the blue flag was very reassuring. The little maid got courage and told the horse she guessed it was all right, so cast glances of pitiful appeal at the judges.

Happy it is to say that the second time they came riding by the tribunes, the lady in the carriage was all smiles and she carried a proud blue flag. But the coon-his mouth was expanded in one broad grin that saved his face in two—and it is the most shocking thing in the world, you know, for a "tiger" to give forth any symptoms of human intelligence. So, perhaps, they ought to have taken back the blue flag and given him a yellow.

BOLDNESS OF IT.

It was not all so dainty and airy, however. Some of it was very bold and masculine. There were two little boys in six-shooters and cowboy "chaps" that were eight miles farther "wild west" in their costume and a hundred times more desperate in their demeanor than Buffalo Bill ever thought of being. There were also excellent brass bands and two splendidly drilled marching clubs—the Columbia and the American, in white uniforms.

Each broke into fancy evolutions, brilliantly executed, as they came in front of the grand stand. The mystery of it is how they knew what the orders meant. The American Club claim in a martial tone, "Ump! today, pwn bet quof," or something that sounded like it, and with one simultaneous impulse they would wheel into graceful formations. The Columbia

FORMATION DETAILS.

The grand marshal's division formed

Indian a corner, entering from Eldorado street; C. M. Steen, chief; R. C. Patterson, Dick Dickey, aides; men and women equestrians, single turnouts, double turnouts.

The fifth division formed on Oakland avenue, entering from Eldorado street; Kenyon Warren, chief; J. E. Davis, E. S. Gould, Santa Ana Band, C. C. Langley, director; Columbia Marching Club, Capt. Ulm, children equestrians, floats.

The sixth division formed on North Los Robles avenue, entering from Walnut street; Walter C. Fisher, chief; H. W. Pollard, Carl Roberts, aides; polo teams, six-in-hands, four-in-hands.

The seventh division formed on South Los Robles avenue; Carl Terpenning, chief; Fred Pearce, Frank Baker, aides; SPLENDOR AT THE FRONT.

The parade was led by the herald Elliott Howe, mounted upon a prancing charger, and carrying a cornucopia upon which he blew at intervals resounding notes. The herald was dressed after the fashion of the king's herald of centuries ago, in a plush cloak, leggings and tights of different shades of blue, and a dark blue plumed cap, with a jaunty feather. He rode a black horse. His standard-bearer were Alfred Alley and Frederick Johnston, dressed in light blue plush suits.

The mounted police, Chief Freeman and Officers Austin, Rogers, Pinkham, Reynolds, Bristol and Compton, presented a brave appearance. The Chief who wears his uniform only on state occasions, was mounted on a large white horse, noticeable for its grace and flowing mane and tail. The horse of the police were tastefully decorated with sprays and collars of smilax and geraniums and in the middle of each was a pennant of the Tournament of Roses, blue and gold, for sky and poppies.

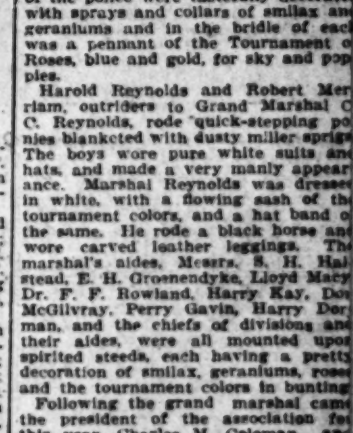

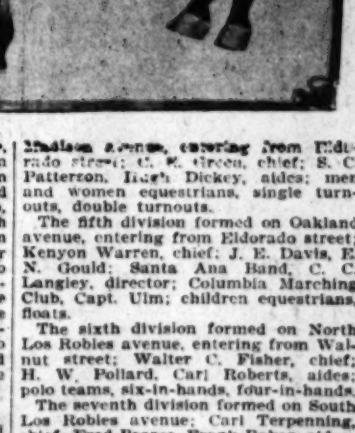

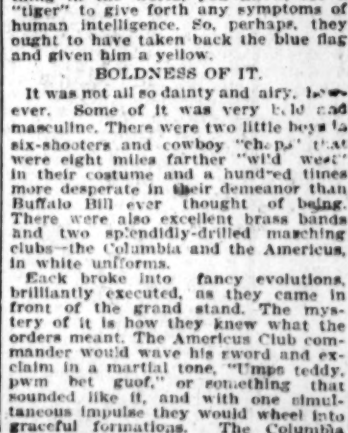

Harold Reynolds and Robert Merriam, outriders to Grand Marshal C. C. Reynolds, rode "quick-stepping" ponies blanketed with dusty miller sprays. The boys wore pure white suits and hats, and made a very manly appearance. Marshal Reynolds was dressed in white, with a dawning each of the tournament colors, and a hat band of the same. He rode a black horse and wore carved leather leggings. The marshal's aides, Messrs. S. H. Halstead, E. H. Grossmeyer, Lloyd Macy, Dr. F. F. Rowland, Harry Kay, Don McGilvray, Perry Gavin, Harry Dorman, and the chiefs of divisions and their aides, were all mounted upon spirited steeds, each having a pretty decoration of smilax, geraniums, roses and the tournament colors in bunting.

Following the grand marshal came the president of the association for this year, Charles M. Coleman, ex-lets, who were going prancing by alongside tall-hatted masculine rein-holders whose whips had to be at just that angle or it would have created a public scandal.

But don't mention these. These weren't in it for a minute. The "real things" were a herd of untamed ocean-going, man-eating steam "automobiles." Not the ordinary horseless craft, that made a red streak through the atmosphere as they whizzed past, but at last the street stood empty and expectant, and away in the distance came the faint blare of a band, and you looked off through the peppering vias of the avenue to where the glint and glitter of a hundred Friday's Surprises From the Women's Garment Sale.

$40,000.00 Stock Women's Wearables, Reduced From One-Fourth to One-third.

This is by long odds the best and greatest sale of its kind ever held in Los Angeles. At the beginning of the season every one of these garments was new and was of most acceptable patterns as decreed by the fashion centers of the east, but it is our usual custom to carry nothing over to another season, and just after Christmas of each year we institute a clearance sale. The season this year has been a little warm and has retarded selling to some extent which possibly makes the assortment of garments offered now exceptionally large. As you will almost certainly wear garments next year which you purchase this, it is a money saving proposition to you if you have need of any outer garments, to attend this sale, for prices have been reduced from one-fourth to one-third and represents an aggregate amount of $40,000 to this firm.
